

Archbishop Desmond Tutu, recipient of the Nobel Prize for Peace, joins Academy Student Delegates for an informal lunch at the International Achievement Summit in Washington.

Members of the Academy, philanthropist and entrepreneur Leonard A. Lauder, and the former Majority Leader of the U.S. Senate, The Honorable George J. Mitchell, at the Banquet of the Golden Plate ceremonies.

Justice Scalia returned to the stage at the Chamber of Commerce on Saturday morning for a free-wheeling discussion with commentator Chris Matthews, Host of the MSNBC Hardball television program. Justice Scalia was followed by the world's leading AIDS researcher, Dr. Anthony Fauci, who joined the Assistant Surgeon General of the United States, Rear Admiral Susan Blumenthal for a discussion of "Public Health and Public Safety," moderated by CBS News correspondent Mike Wallace. The morning's other speakers included the commander of NATO's successful intervention in Kosovo, General Wesley Clark (USA, Ret.), now a commentator on military affairs for CNN, and Archbishop Desmond Tutu, a hero of South Africa's freedom struggle and a recipient of the Nobel Prize for Peace.

The assembly heard from award-winning documentary filmmaker Ken Burns,